

King Ketchup Competition Entry 2003

Eastern Native Seed Conservancy and Berkshire Columbia Slow Food Convivium at the Epicurean Tomato Fete, September 7

Name: _____

Affiliated Company or Restaurant: _____

Address: _____

City and State: _____

Phone Number: _____

Email: _____

Are you a commercial producer? _____

Please enclose entry fee payable to Eastern Native Seed Conservancy (check one):

_____ $35 (under $75,000 in annual ketchup sales)

_____ $75 (over $75,000)

Ketchup entries: You may enter only 1 ketchup per category. Please check off each category in which you are making an entry.

___ 1. An heirloom red tomato ketchup based on an historical recipe using red hued heirloom tomatoes. Use of modern hybrids will result in disqualification. Tomato varieties used must be clearly designated.

___ 2. A non-red tomato ketchup, including use of black tomatoes, unripe green tomatoes, etc.

___ 3. An innovative ketchup using any combination of ingredients including historic non-tomato ketchups or any other interpretation.

___ 4. A red tomato ketchup using any variety of tomato. This category is particularly geared to commercial producers.

Send forms and your product(s) to Eastern Native Seed Conservancy, 729
Ashley Falls Road, Ashley Falls, MA 01222 or hand deliver to Eastover Resort, Lenox, MA.

Questions? Call 413-229-8316/ 413-232-4604